

Photography & Marketing Policy

Photos & videos taken by Southside Climbing are our (Southside Climbing) intellectual property. If you receive photo's taken from us, please feel free to share them on your personal accounts, however, they are not to be used for commercial sale or use. You and/or your parties' contribution to the photography process is voluntary, and are not guaranteed to receive anything in exchange. Southside Climbing and other businesses owned by the company own the rights to use the photos for commercial sale, marketing and share with 3rd parties. We use Google Drive to send the photos, Google have their own policies to agree to. If you are unhappy with the use of our media, please contact hayden@southsideclimbing.co.uk, we can't guarantee your issues can be resolved.